Choosing Where You Travel

You can travel in these zones and areas:-

04

You can use the area and zone maps within this booklet to identify which type of ticket you need when travelling on bus, train or ferry.

Travelling outside your zones and areas

If you find that your journey will take you outside your chosen Trio, Railpass or Saveaway zone or area, simply pay the normal fare for the 'extra' part of your journey before the journey begins.

You can combine different types of season tickets for journeys through different areas or zones. For example, you could travel from Liverpool to Ormskirk either by an all zones Railpass (rail only) or a Trio ticket for area C and a Railpass for Zone F.

If you only travel by bus

Solo Tickets

For buses in Merseyside

(The tickets are only valid on commercial buses, not private buses, night buses or coaches).

If your journey crosses the Merseyside boundary into Lancashire, Cheshire or Greater Manchester you must pay the extra fare from the boundary.

Some bus operators also offer their own day or season tickets which may work out cheaper. Please check their websites for more information.

A weekly or 4-weekly Solo on a Walrus card will start on the day you first use it. Once you place it on a bus ticket machine it becomes active. Each time you travel you must place your Walrus card onto the bus ticket machine. If you have more than one Solo product on your Walrus card you should advise the driver which one you want your journey deducted from, when you travel.
